

Arts + Public Life

Installation view, Dawoud Bey: Portraits from Chicago (1993-2001), at Arts + Public Life, 2021.

Photo by On the Real

As a neighborhood platform for arts and culture in Washington Park, Arts + Public Life provides residencies for Black and Brown artists and creative entrepreneurs, arts education for youth, and artist-led programming and exhibitions.

Plan your visit

Visits to the Arts Incubator are by timed reservation. Learn more about special hours and make a reservation to visit.

Dawoud Bey: Portraits from Chicago (1993–2001)

May 21–August 28, 2021

Arts + Public Life opens Toward Common Cause with an exhibition of works by Chicago-based Dawoud Bey, who has photographed South Side youth across decades of artistic practice. In the 1990s, he invited them into his studio, seated them against single-hued studio walls, and fragmented their faces across multiple 20 x 24-inch Polaroids. In the early 2000s, he took street photographs of South Side youth as he came across them on sidewalks and steps. As a whole, these portraits make visible a group who are not fully recognized by society, activating the sitters' inner worlds for viewers to contemplate.

Make a reservation to visit Arts + Public Life

Other initiatives

CHOP IT UP: Black Wall Street Journey

June 9, July 8, and August 12

Arts + Public Life is also hosting a three part conversation about the Black economy in conjunction with Rick Lowe's Toward Common Cause project, Black Wall Street Journey.

Address

Washington Park Arts Incubator
301 E Garfield Blvd
Chicago, Illinois 60637

Contact

773.702.9724

artsandpubliclife@uchicago.edu

artsandpubliclife.org/dawoud-bey

Related Artists

Dawoud Bey

Rick Lowe

Related Events

CHOP IT UP: Black Wall Street Journey

June 9, 2021 5:30-7:00pm

CHOP IT UP: Black Wall Street Journey

July 8, 2021 5:30-7:00pm

CHOP IT UP: Black Wall Street Journey

August 12, 2021 5:30-7:00pm

Summer Teacher Institute

August 16-20, 10:00am-4:00pm